HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

A bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind, Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or as medicinally termed Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, his Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1.50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheaper compound, and be benefited by it will most certainly be cheated.

DR. HOOFLAND'S PODOPHYLLIN,

OR

Substitute for Mercury Pills.

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The most Powerful, Yet Innocent, Vegetable Cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no diseases can retain the hold, or even assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN Remedies that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a large profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Choice Poetry.

Stormy March.

March with its clouds and sunshine, its storms and genial days is upon us. We reproduce the following beautiful and suggestive lines by BRYANT.

The stormy March is come at last,
With wind and cloud and changing sky;
I hear the rushing of the blast,
That through the snowy valley flies.

Ah! passing few are those who speak,
Wild stormy month, in praise of thee;
Yet though thy winds are loud and bleak,
Thou art a welcome month to me.

For thou to northern lands again,
The glad and glorious sun doth bring;
And thou hast joined the gentle train,
And wearest the gentle name of Spring.

And in thy reign of blast and storm,
Smiles many a long bright sunny day,
When the changed winds are soft and warm,
And heaven puts on the bloom of May.

Then sing aloud the gushing rills,
And the full springs from frost set free,
That brightly leaping down the hills,
Are just set out to meet the sea.

The year's departing beauty hides,
Of wintry storm the sullen threat,
But in thy sternest frown abides,
A look of kindly promise yet.

Thou bring'st the hope of those calm skies,
And that soft hue of many showers,
When the wide bloom on earth that lies
Seems of a brighter world than ours.

Better Late Than Never.

Life is a race where some succeed,
While others are beginning;
Tis luck in some, in others speed,
That give an early winning;
But if you chance to fall behind,
Ne'er slacken your endeavor,
Just keep this wholesome truth in mind—
"Tis better late than never!"

And if you keep ahead 'tis well,
But never trip your neighbor;
Tis noble when you can excel
By honest, patient labor;
But if you are outstripped at first
Press on as bold as ever,
Remember, though you are surpassed,
"Tis better late than never!"

Ne'er labor for an idle boast,
Or victory o'er another;
But while you strive your uttermost,
Deal fairly with a brother.
Whate'er your station, do your best,
And hold your purpose ever;
And if you fail to do the rest,
"Tis better late than never!"

Choose well the path in which you run,
Succeed by noble bearing;
Then, though the last, when once 'tis won,
Your crown is worth the wearing.
Then never fret if left behind,
Nor slacken your endeavor;
But ever keep this truth in mind—
"Tis better late than never!"

WILD SPORTS IN AFRICA.

That night we were to sleep in the forest; so before sunset, we built a large camp for shelter. But there was no sleep for me; the leopards were too plentiful, and their dismal and ferocious howls resounding not far from the camp, told me that we had better keep a bright look-out. I forbade any one to move out of the light of the fires during the night; but there was little need of caution, as they knew very well that if they did they would never come back to the camp. The next day I proposed a leopard hunt. The next morning, when I got up and said we must find the lair of the leopard, the people seemed to back down; but I was not willing to give it up, as the leopards were not far from us, and their lair must be near by. I wanted only four Apingi to go with me.

So I called four of the warriors. I gave two guns to them, and one preferred to go with his war spears.

After awhile we came to the bank of a little stream, where I discovered the foot-prints of a huge leopard in the soft ground. What paws! It must be an old and ferocious animal. I have not the slightest doubt that the monster was an old fellow, and that it was the one that came so near our camp during the night, and nothing but the big fires we kept up had frightened him away and prevented him from pouncing upon us. Unless the leopard had caught something last night he must be fearfully hungry, and, consequently, very fierce. I must look out, for, in that case, if I see him I will have but very little time to fire, for in a jiffy he will spring upon me, said I to myself.

So I carefully followed along the bank of the stream the foot-prints of the huge cat. If he sees me first he may pounce upon me, as a cat does a mouse. I must be careful. The Apingi are watchful. They look all around; their ears are ready to hear the least noise. All at once I hear a cluck from one of the men. I stop; he points out to me a spot ahead just by the stream, where the underbrush or jungle is very thick. Huge trees have fallen one upon another, and it is impossible to see through the mass. The leopard must be there. This dark place must be his abode for the day. There he hides himself and sleeps, and from there he starts upon his depredations, spreading fear and terror among beasts and men. I stand ready to fire at a second's notice. I wish you could have seen me. I knew that it was a matter of life and death with me. I follow the track of the leopard, for it had walked all along the little stream. The Apingi men are not mistaken. Suddenly the footprints leave the river, and the last I see of them show that the animal has retired into that thick, dark and almost impenetrable part of the jungle, where the Apingi had told me that the leopard was concealed. This is dangerous game. I can not see the enemy. It is dangerous to go in. I cannot back out; I dare not show the Apingi that I am afraid. But, then, I do not wish to be killed by an infuriated leopard.

The best thing than I can do is to use caution and enter the thicket. The Apingi are almost afraid to go in. But we must do it. I lead. Oh, I wish I had some native dogs with me; they would bark and show us the lair of the leopard. After a while I succeeded in climbing to the top of the huge tree that had been blown down by the tornado. It is, at least, ten feet in diameter. When once lodged there I take a view of the surroundings. The Apingi are close at my back. They are evidently afraid, and for myself, I do not feel very comfortable, for you will agree with me that it is a difficult position to be in, not to see the exact location of such a dangerous enemy as the leopard, which, at any moment, might be down on my back, his claws fastened in my shoulders, any his big teeth in my neck. Such thoughts were not very reassuring to a worn traveler.

I must confess that I was very much excited. I looked round and round. The slightest noise made by the wind through the trees would startle me. I thought the leopard was close at hand and ready to spring upon me. I would have given a good deal to see him. Carefully I came down the trunk of the huge tree, and continued to press forward with my Apingi into the thickest part of this already very thick jungle.

Suddenly the faces of my Apingi men become excited. They stop walking; the strong odor of the leopard is clearly perceptible; he is evidently not far from us. We are upon the leopard, and he is probably eying us, and ready to make a spring. We must hurry to see him, for surely destruction is coming upon us unless we destroy the animal. I look ahead into a thick bush, where were a large number of broken branches. It seems almost dark, though it is not noon yet, and the sky is clear and the sun shines resplendently. Everything round is in gloom. A cold shiver runs through me. A feeling of insecurity begins to possess me. I must check it, for, if I do not, my arm will not be steady, and I shall miss the monster if I see him. The thought of home and friends rushed to my mind. The feeling of insecurity suddenly disappeared. I must conquer this big wild cat of the forest. If he is wary, I, too, must be wary.

Whew! hallo! I see the monster! He is lying on the dead branch of a tree. He leaps upon the ground and crouches upon it. His long tail wags to and fro, showing that he is enraged. His eyes glisten with a singular light; he is ready to spring. He springs, but, just as his body seems to rise from the ground, a tremendous and deadly steel-pointed bullet goes through his head, and three spears of the Apingi are plunged into his body. The monster roll on the ground upon his back, uttering fearful yells of pain that fill the forest, and drive every little animal from the neighborhood. By this time my breath is taken away. I am so excited that my heart beats with fearful quickness. I must be pale as death, for the excitement is great; for, one second more, and the monster would have made his deadly spring, which would have been destruction to me.

I was glad when the chase was over, and I concluded that I would rather chase the leopard at night with a goat tied to a tree for a lure; but then I must not do as I did before—fall asleep with the goat—as I have previously described to you, lest, perhaps, instead of taking the goat, it might take me.

When we got back to the camp there was an immense excitement. The Apingi said that they had killed the leopard, also, for three of their spears had been in his body. It was a huge old fellow. I wish you could have seen his teeth and his large paws. What tremendous claws it had! With a blow of his paw the monster could have killed the strongest man.

I was greatly pleased to secure this animal, for its skin was superb, and I knew that I would gladden the heart of some friend at home when I should present it to him.

How a Reputation Tells.

The Hon. Wm. Mack, Speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives, tells the following: "A distinguished gentleman of Terra Haute informed me that one evening last summer, when he was at the house of a prominent Republican of the city, he witnessed a number of little children, from seven to twelve years of age, amusing themselves by playing charades. You are familiar with the mode of playing. The company divides, a few go out of the room, select a word, return, and act it out by syllables, so those in the room may guess it. The word emigrant was selected. Well, after they had made out "em," and "i," a syllable was left which chanced to be the name of the President. A little girl entered, and after bowing to a little boy seated in the room, and handing him a package, said: "Here is a present worth $10,000; don't open it." Then comes a little boy, who says: "We have bought for you a very nice house." Then came a third, not more than eight years, leading a big Newfoundland dog, almost as tall as himself, and says: "I have brought you a nice pup, and I want to be postmaster." At this a dozen voices shouted "Grant," "Grant," "Grant," "Emigrant."—Delaware State Journal.

POPULAR ERRORS.—To think the more a man eats the fatter and stronger he will become. To believe that the more hours children study the faster they will learn. To conclude that, if exercise is good, the more violent it is the more good is done. To imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained. To act on the presumption that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in. To argue that whatever remedy causes one to feel immediately better is good for the system, without regard to ulterior effects. To eat without an appetite, or continue to eat after it has been satisfied, merely to gratify the taste. To eat a hearty supper for the pleasure experienced during the brief time it is passing down the throat, at the expense of a whole night of disturbed sleep and a still more weary waking in the morning.

THE BLACK PRINCE.—Jacob Von Brunn is the only genuine scion of African royalty that has ever visited this country. His father is the King of the Grand Bassa country, adjoining Liberia, the population of which is nearly 600,000 persons, divided into several tribes. The Prince is Governor of Little Bassa. He has been visiting the great commercial warehouses. When it is considered that he never before had seen horses, cars, locomotives, railroads, paved streets, machinery, &c., the intensity of his amazement can be easily imagined.

Deaconesses.

The Bishop of London has recently revived the practice of appointing deaconesses of the Episcopal church, by ordaining a lady for that service. There are many thousands of noble hearted women throughout the world who devote much of their time and personal exertions to works of charity, and are the means of doing a vast amount of good among the ignorant and the poor, yet there is room for the services of regularly ordained servants of religion and charity, such as these deaconesses were in the olden time.

In addition to the deaconesses, who in the early Christian churches were employed in charitable offices among the women, there were, probably, some female presbyters, or widows, for the supervision and instruction of the younger persons of their own sex in each congregation, "aged women, in behavior, as becometh holiness; not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things," who were exhorted to "teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, to be discreet, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed." History, however, is not very clear with regard to these female presbyters. Dr. Hase, in his history of the Christian Church (§127), says that in the fourth century they disappeared, and that the ordination of deaconesses was looked upon as a Montanistic custom, and after the fifth century their office was, in the West, entirely abolished. "Montanistic" means "according to the notions of Montanus," of Mysai, who, in the year 173, founded a sect of revivalist Christians, who claimed to practice the most rigid mortality and discipline, and to be animated by the zeal which prevailed in the Apostolic times. It seems to have been part of the duty of the female presbyters to "continue in supplications and prayers night and day," as the prophetess Anna did, and it was decreed by the Apostle that no widow should be taken into the number of those who thus served the church, under the age of sixty, and not then unless she had had only one husband, had brought up children, relieved the afflicted, been well reported of for good works, and diligently practiced them.—Ledger.

Cheap Pleasure.

Did you ever study the cheapness of some pleasure? asks some writer. Do you know how little it takes to make a multitude happy? Such trifles as a penny, a word, or a smile, do the work. There are two or three boys passing along—give them each a chestnut, and how smiling they look! They will not be cross for some time. A poor widow mother of a half a dozen children. Send them half a peck of sweet apples, and they will be happy. A child has lost his arrow—the world to him—and he mourns sadly; help him to find it, or make him another, and how quickly will the sunshine play over his sober face. A boy has as much as he can do to pile up a load of wood; assist him a few moments, or speak a pleasant word to him, and he forgets his toil, and works away without minding it. Your apprentice has broken a mug, or cut the vest too large, or slightly injured a piece of work. Say, "You scoundrel," and he feels miserable; but remark, "I am sorry," and he will try to do better.

You employ a man; pay him cheerfully, and speak a pleasant word to him, and he leaves your house with a contented heart, to light up his own hearth with smiles and gladness. As you pass along the streets, you meet a familiar face; say "Good morning," as though you felt happy, and it will work admirably in the heart of your neighbor. Pleasure is cheap. Who will not bestow it liberally? If there are smiles, sunshine and flowers all about us, let us not grasp them with a miser's fist, and lock them up in our hearts. No; rather let us take them and scatter them about us, in the cot of the widow, among the groups of children, in the crowded mart, where men of business congregate, in our families, and everywhere. We can make the wretched happy, the discontented cheerful, the afflicted resigned, at exceedingly cheap rate. Who will refuse to do it?

Officious People.

Officious people can never leave things alone. No one can possess his soul in peace, or go his own way unhindered of them. They stand at the cross-roads of all men's lives, pointing out to them the path they ought to take, and whether in religious faith or house furnishing, the choice of a wife or the pattern of a boot, have their word to say, their advice to give, and their fingers to dip, whatever may be the pie that is making. Illness is one of their strong points, and if they hear that you are indisposed, whether slightly or gravely, they rush off to proffer advice, which you do not want and will not accept, and which probably would turn out a mistake if you did accept. Your nurse does not know her business; let them send for one of their own choosing to-night. Your medical man says you are suffering from a certain form of illness. Well, of course he ought to know; but to the officious it seems very much like something else; or, if they do not go quite so far, they inquire, with the air of knowing all about it, whether he has not ordered such and such things to be done; and if you say no, they urge you to have their own medical man without delay, as they are so sure yours is making a mistake. And so on, till they have worried you into a fever; when they take their leave, and bewail your obstinacy to the next comer. Any calamity is a godsend to them, for they have their innings when their neighbors are so prostrated by distress that they can buzz about them at their will. They are self-naturalized Samaritans, physicians without diplomas, ministers independent of orders or the Apostolic succession; and the unlucky ones whom it is their pleasure to assist must keep them off with a strong arm, which may lead to a quarrel, or yield themselves helplessly into their active and officious hands.

Husbands on Probation.

While our fine girls are bemoaning the lack of young men, and the scarcity of beaux who are marriageable and mean marriage, there is a class of young men whom they do not recognize at all, yet who will furnish the next generation its men of enterprise, of power, of position and of wealth. It is not the sons of the rich who will, as a rule, remain rich. The sons of the poor will get rich; and there to-day, drudging in offices and counting-rooms, and storehouses and machine-shops, and printing establishments, are the men who, in twenty-five years, will control the nation socially, politically and financially. Every man of them means to be married; they will, as a rule, make excellent husbands; they are all at work trying to win success. There are men who would be easily improved by recognition, and by bringing them into good intelligent society; yet they are as little noticed as if they were so many dogs. Virtuous young men from the country go into the city, and live for years without any society, and are regarded by the fashionable young women with indifference or contempt; but those young men have a hold upon the future; and when their success is known, in whatever field of enterprise it may be, the fashionables will be glad to receive them as belonging to their own number. We regret to say that, as a rule, the young men for whom a position has been won by virtuous and enterprising fathers, amounted to but little in the world; and we rejoice to say that companions chosen from those who have their fortunes to make and their positions to win, are those to whom a well-bred woman can generally with safety entrust her happiness and herself.

HOME HEATHEN.—Careful survey has convinced some of our best informed men, that at least one half of the population of this country live and die without attention to the demands of religion. This fact shows that ministers and churches are not likely to get out of employment from lack of material which needs their services, and it also shows that the only possible way of preventing civilized man from going back again into heathenism, is to persistently lift, teach, rebuke, urge, entreat him, and never give over the effort. The moment the lifting process ceases, he drops, or at least slides down towards the blackness of moral night. All the talk about progression from the evolution of internal forces, is belied by facts and experiences. The only way that man ever progresses is by a pressure from without, and the best, the most effective, the only saving power for this is the gospel. That lifts the soul hopes, purposes and inspirations causing it to hunger and thirst after righteousness. And wherever this great hungering exists there is progress upwards. If we fail to move and save this nation by the gospel, it is sure to fall; the inclining to sin will sink it ere long into moral ruin.

Protect Your Eyesight.

Milton's blindness was the result of over-work and dyspepsia. One of the most eminent American divines having for some time been compelled to forego the pleasure of reading has spent thousands of dollars in value, and lost years of time in consequence of getting up several hours before day and studying by artificial light. His eyes will never get well.

Multitudes of men and women have made their eyes weak for life by the too free use of the eyesight, reading small print and doing fine sewing. In view of these things it is well to observe the following rules in the use of the eyes:

Avoide all sudden changes between light and darkness.

Never read by twilight or moonlight, or on a cloudy day.

Never sleep so that, on waking, the eyes shall open on the light of a window.

Do not use the eyesight by light so scant that it requires an effort to discriminate.

Never read or sew directly in front of the light of a window, or door.

Two much light creates a glare and pains and confuses the sight. The moment you are sensible of an effort to distinguish, that moment cease, and take a walk or ride.

THE western and northern frontier settlements of Texas are plundered by Indian raids regularly every month during the first two quarters of the moon. Full details of the killing of men and women, taking off into captivity children, stealing horses, mules and stock cattle, are published in the newspapers of Austin and San Antonio. The State government has done nothing to prevent or punish the Indians, who come from Mexico and from the reservations west of Arkansas. Nor has any serious, honest efforts been made by the State. Neither time nor money can be spared from the consolidation and continuance of the Union Republican party in power. Why the United States military authorities in Texas have been so inert—have accomplished so little towards frontier protection—is only known to themselves and the War Department at Washington.

THE German Imperial crown is a foot high, of 21 karat gold, and heavily set with pearls. The sceptre is of silver gilt, and two feet long. The globe carried in the hand is of the finest gold, 3½ inches in dia meter, and encircled by two rings, one perpendicular and half covered with jewels, and the other horizontal and entirely crusted with gems. On top is a cross which fairly blazes with precious stones. These insignias have long been kept in the Hofbeurg at Vienna, and will be brought forth for Kaiser Wilhelm's coronation.

DIFFICULTIES.—There are many who, in their eagere desir for the end, overlook the difficulties in the way; there is another class who see nothing else. The first class may sometimes fail; the latter rarely succeeds.

The Fretful Man.

The passionate ill-natured man lives always in stormy weather, even though it be the quiet of dew-fall around him; always wrong, always hurt, always complaining of some enemy. He has no conception that this enemy is in his own bosom, in the sourness, the ungoverned irritability, the habitual ill-nature of his own bad spirit and character. I speak not here of some single burst of passion, into which a man of amiable temper may for once be betrayed; but I speak more especially of the angry characters, always brewing in some tempest of violated feeling.—They have a great many enemies, are unaccountable ill-treated, and cannot understand why it is. They have no suspicion that they see and suffer bad things because they are bad, that being ill-natured is about the same thing as receiving ill-treatment, and that all the enemies they suffer from are snugly closeted in their own evil temper.

The same is true of fretful persons—men and women that wear away fast and die, because they have worried life completely out. Nothing goes right; husband or wife, or child or customer, or sermon. They are picked and stung at every motion they make, and wonder why it is that others are permitted to float along so peacefully, and they never suffered to have a moment of peace in their lives. And the very simple reason is, that life is a field of nettles to them, because their fretful, worrying tempers are always pricking out through the tender skin of their uneasiness. Why, if they were set down in paradise, carrying their bad mind with them, they would fret at the good angels, and the climate, and the color even of the roses.—Dr. Bushnell,

WHAT IS MAN?—The Prophet asks, What is man? From a very materialistic point of view, an exchange paper says, that, taking the average, at fifty years of age, a man has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500 days, walked 800 days, amused himself 4,000 days, was eating 1,500 days, and was sick 500 days. In this time he has eaten 79,000 pounds of bread, 16,000 pounds of meat, 4,000 pounds of vegetables, eggs and fish; and drunk 7,000 gallons of liquid—namely, water, coffee, tea, beer, wine, etc altogether. This would make a respectable lake of 300 feet surface and three feet deep, on which a small steamboat could float comfortably. Few men of fifty, probably, have looked upon themselves in this light before.

LUXURIOUS CHRISTIANS.—It is stated that a fashionable denomination at Newark, New Jersey, are constructing a church which will be provided with a few extras. Adjoining the vestry is to be built a church parlor, which is to be furnished like a modern drawing-room with piano and elegant furniture. Beneath this room will be situated the church kitchen, with a hotel range, and all the conveniences for getting up "big dinner." If anything more is wanting to complete this paradisiacal palace, it might be added in the form of a ten-pin alley, a cock-pit, and a place to suck mint juleps and play draw-poker.

HERE is where the shoe pinched the Prussian foot. The battle of Jena, fatal to the Prussian monarchy, was fought on October 14, 1806. About twenty thousand Prussians were killed in that battle, and more than thirty thousand taken prisoners. The King fled from the field, the Duke of Brunswick received his death-wound upon it, all the principal fortresses surrendered to the victorious French, who on the 25th of October, 1806, entered Berlin, into which Napoleon I made his triumphant entry on the following day.—History has thus repeated itself, with inversions, and Jena has been avenged.

ENDLESS CHAIN.—Some thoughtful German has worked out the following "schema," which is inscribed on the town hall in Berlin, in anticipation of the illuminations for peace, for which German hearts are longing:

Peace brings wealth;
Wealth brings pride;
Pride brings war;
War brings poverty;
Proverty brings humility;
Humility brings peace.

THE preciousness of little things was never more beautifully expressed than by B. F. Taylor, in the following: "Little words are the sweetest to hear; little charities fly farthest and stay longest on the wing; little lakes are the stillest; little hearts are the fullest, and little farms are the best tilled. Little books are the most read, and little songs the most loved. And when Nature would make anything especially rare and beautiful, she makes it little—little pearls, little diamonds, little dews."

THE oldest land on the globe, and that which first rose above the ocean which the revelations of geology tell us once covered the whole earth is the long low line of hills, nowhere exceeding two thousand feet in height, which extends along the border between Canada and the United States, from the eastern part of the Dominion almost to the base of the Rocky Mountains.

THE SOUL'S INFANCY.—No animal continues so long in a state of infancy as man; an animal is so long before it can stand. And is not this still truer of our souls than of our bodies? For when are they out of their infancy? When can they be said to stand? Yet till they can, how much do they need a strong hand to uphold them.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1871.

The Conviction of Holden.

We published yesterday, says the Lancaster Intelligencer, a full account of the conviction of William W. Holden, Governor of the State of North Carolina. After a patient and thorough examination, in which the accused was given every opportunity to refute the grave charges brought against him, he was solemnly adjudged to be guilty in manner and form as he stood indicted for high crimes and misdemeanors. Being entrusted with the protection of the lives and property of the citizens of the State, and commissioned to guard the Constitution of the Commonwealth and to execute the laws thereof, he imported a band of sanguinary ruffians and turned their arms against a peaceable and unoffending people. Under authority given him by some were seized without any warrant of law, thrown into loathsome prisons and tortured in the most cruel manner to make them confess to deeds they have never committed. Men who had committed no offence were hung up by the neck, and other gross indignities, such as only savages are accustomed to employ, were practiced upon them. When an appeal was made to the courts by his victims they were denied the sacred privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, and civil law was laid prostrate before the feet of armed violence. The Treasury of the Commonwealth was plundered to pay the bargains, whom he employed, to wreak vengeance upon those whose only offense was the exercise of that freedom in political action which is the inalienable right of every American citizen. Having been solemnly arraigned for crimes of such magnitude, he was ably defended, and allowed the advantage of every ancient judicial right during the trial. The evidence against him was overwhelming, and he has been formally adjudged to be guilty, and sentenced to be deposed from office, and forever deprived of the rights of citizenship in the State of North Carolina. That the verdict of the High Court of Impeachment was eminently just and proper, no man who read the evidence can doubt. The whole country is interested in seeing the majesty of the law preserved inviolate, and their cherished institution defended from such assaults as were made upon them by this man Holden.

Alaska.

The cost of the occupation of Alaska by the United States is $10,388 a month besides supplies, and is divided as follows: Army, $3,900; navy, $3,500; revenue cutter, $2,200, and custom house, $700. The products are: Salmon fish, last year, 1,100 barrels, $14,400. In addition to this the fisheries yielded 4,000 gallons of seal and dog-fish oil, worth $2,400. The fur trade has decreased ever since in the United States occupation. During the first year of American rule this trade amounted to $35,000, the second, $25,000, and last year less than $20,000. The number of Americans and Europeans in Sitka, (more than half of all there are in Alaska,) is 3,940 tory is about 8,300. The Russian inhabitants are anxious to be transported to some portion of the Czar's dominions.

THERE are about 6,000,000 holders of real estate in this country. These figures contrast well with the 300,000 landed proprietors of Great Britain. In the difference between these two figures lies the whole question of the relative popular prosperity of the two countries. In this country every man may be the proprietor of the land upon which he lives if he should so will it, relation being had, of course, to locality; but in England more than half the land is attached to hereditary estates, which descend from father to son, and which are practically closed to the balance of the people. One man in ten thousand in Great Britain owns the land, which the remaining nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine must pay him his own price to occupy as a home. The possession of these vast tracts of land is the secret of the enormous incomes enjoyed by the British nobility and gentry. So long as the law of primogeniture and entailment is in force, and the three hundred thousand landowners keep the thirty odd million British subjects beneath their feet, so long will the immense majority of Englishmen continue in poverty, while the few grow richer out of the necessities of the many. If the movement for political reform in England should take the direction of breaking down this privileged class of land-holders, and compel a law which, while leaving the aristocracy the empty shadow of their titles, would permit the great estates, which now descend with the titles, to be thrown upon the market, every Englishman would have an opportunity to become possessed of that which at present he cannot lay claim to—a home and the ownership of the land upon which that home is situated.

POLITICAL.—Elections will take place during the coming month in Connecticut and Rhode Island. On Monday, April 3d, in Connecticut a Governor and other State officers, and members of Congress will be chosen, and on Wednesday, April 5th, in Rhode Island, State officers and members of the Legislature will be voted for. In Connecticut the Republican candidates for the principal positions are Marshall Jewell for Governor, and Julius L. Strong, Stephen W. Kellogg, Henry H. Starkweather and George Coffing for Congress, the first three having been members of the forty-first Congress. The Democratic candidates are James E. English for re-election as Governor, and Alfred R. Goodrish, John Kendrick, John W. Stedman and William H. Barnum for Congress, the last named gentleman having been a member of the forty-first Congress. In Rhode Island Seth Padelford, the present incumbent, is the Republican, and Thomas Steen is the Democratic candidate for Governor.

IT is considered on good authority, that the cost of the war to France will be found to have exceeded four millards of francs. A millard of francs represents $200,000,000 of our money. This is exclusive of the vast indemnity demanded by the Prussians among the terms of peace.

HON. ALEXANDER CALDWELL, the new Senator from Kansas, is said to be worth $3,000,000.

Death of Judge Lewis.

Hon. ELLIS LEWIS, ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, died at his residence in Philadelphia, on Sunday morning the 19th of March. He was born at Lewisberry, a village of York county, May 16, 1798, so that his age was nearly seventy-three years. Soon after Harrisburg became the seat of government of the State, young Lewis repaired thither, and received employmet in the printing office of James Peacock, editor and owner of the Pennsylvania Republican, part of his duty having been as carrier of the paper in the then small village. He perfected himself as a printer, and in 1819, became associated with I. K. TORBERT in the publication of the old Lycoming Gazette. He continued as one of the editors up to July 31, 1821, when he was succeeded by T. CORYELL, Esq. His tates, however, led him to the study of the law, and he was admitted to practice in 1822. He also entered the field of politics as a Democrat, and in 1824, was appointed District Attorney for Dauphin county, by Gov. HEISTER. In 1832 he was elected to the State House of Representatives, and in January, 1833, Gov. WOLF appointed him Attorney-General. In October of the same year he was appointed President Judge of the Eighth Judicial District, and in January, 1843, President of the Second District.

At the first election by the people of Judges of the Supreme Court, in October, 1851, Judge LEWIS was one of the successful candidates. He became Chief Justice on the 17th of November, 1854, and retained the position until November, 17th, 1857. He was unanimously renominated for re-election by the Democratic State Convention in the same year, but he declined it, and retired to private life. In 1858 he was appointed one of the Commissioners to revise the civil code of the State. For his acknowledged superior acquaintance with medical jurisprudance he received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the Philadelphia College of Medicine, and the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on him by Transylvania University in Ky., and by Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa. A number of his decisions while on the bench have been frequently cited with approval in the books. He wrote one law book, an Abridgement of the Criminal Law of the United States. Judge LEWIS's tastes were decidedly literary, and he has oftan written for periodicals and newspapers, and always with taste and elegance. His manner and conversation were extremely agreeable, and he loved, of late years to entertain his friends with reminiscences of his early life. In Harrisburg, Williamsport, Lancaster, Philadelphia and other places where he resided, he had hosts of acquaintances who enjoyed his society and respected his characted. He leaves, we believe, only one child, Mrs. Juliet H. L. Campbell, the gifted wife of Hon. JAMES H. CAMPBELL, ex-Minister to Sweden, and formerly a member of Congress, but now a practising lawyer of Philadelphia.

Mutilated Currency.

The Washington Daily Patriot of the 24th inst., says:

"The United States Treasurer is in daily receipt of numerous letters, enclosing slips cut from various newspapers, to the effect that he has decided that postmasters must receive mutilated United States notes, not more than one-twentieth of each note is missing, and that in fractional currency not more than one-tenth is missing. It would seem from these letters that there is a general impression prevailing among postmasters, that they are compelled to redeem mutilated currency. In reply to such a letter the Treasurer says that he has never ventured to instruct postmasters in relation to the receipt of currency by them, nor made any decision on the subject. He has merely referred postmasters and others seeking information on the subject, to circular No. 76, from the Post Office Department, under which postmasters are required "to receive in payment for postage stamps and stamped envelopes, United States notes of which not more than one-twentieth is missing, and fractional notes of which not more than one-tenth is missing, if clearly genuine.

He also calls attention to the fact that under that circular postmasters are not required to receive for any purpose mutilated currency; that is to say, currency of which more than the proportions above referred to is missing; nor are they required to receive currency of which less than those proportions is missing for any other purpose than that indicated above. In other words, they are not required to redeem currency. Mutilated currency is redeemable by the Treasurer of the United States, and by no other officer, and under the instructions of the Department, is not receivable in payment of any public dues, either at par or less."

Disgraceful Scenes in a Radical Legislature.

The Legislature of Arkansas adjourned sine die on Saturday morning. A Little Rock despatch says that the House had a night session, lasting until 2 A. M., at which there was great confusion. During a call of the House, and while the Sergeant-at-arms was searching for absentees, "whiskey flowed freely, cigars were circulated, and a dozen members were addressing the Chair at once." The results of the session are thus sumed up: "The disabilities of about 200 persons were removed, the taxes increased, a number of new offices created and salaries raised and the registration laws so amended that the Governor can carry almost any election over the will of the people. Not one measure of retrenchment or reform was adopted."

PETRIFICATIONS IN THE SANDSTONE.—The sandstone of which old Table Rock mountain is composed has been making revelations. Mr. Pickrell discovered in the stone quarry there, this week, two well-defined petrifications; one of the bones and a fin, apparently of a salmon, and the other five perfectly formed rattles of a snake. They were imbedded many feet in the sandstone formation, still they look as fresh as though they had been buried but a few months. Mr. Pickrell informs us that petrified salmon nearly perfect have been found in the same quarry. These are interesting facts touching the comparatively recent formation of the present features of the country within view of Boston city, for the same kind of fish still swim in Bois, and precisely the same kind of reptiles crawl among the rocks upon its banks as those whose bones and forms are imbedded in the mountains.—Idaho Statesman.

Wheeler's Cavalry vs. Ku-Klux.

Our old war comrade, Bill Wyatt, of the Sixth Georgia Cavalry, made a ten-strike the other day. He captured three of the Ku-Klux that Gov. Bullock has been advertising for, carried them to Chattooga Court House, got them convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years, and came down on Bullock for the prize money, $5,000 for the first, and $1,000 each for the balance—making $7,000 in all. Bullock paid up "like a little man," and Wyatt went home happy. This amount of money is Chattooga county, all at one time, will create a tremendous excitement. The beauty of the whole affair is that these Ku-Klux were common Radical thieves, and were playing Ku-Klux to cover their stealing operations. Bully for Wheeler's cavalry.—Griffin (S. C.) Star.

How to Act in Case of Poisoning.

The Journal of Health says: "Whatever is done must be done quickly. The instant a person is known to have swallowed poison, by design or accident, give him water to drink, cold or warm, as fast as possible, a gallon or more at a time, and as fast as vomited drink more. Tepid water is best, as it opens the pores of the skin and promotes vomiting, and thus gives the speediest cure to the poisonous article. If pains begin to be felt in the bowels, it shows at least that part of the poison has passed downward; then large and repeated injections of tepid water should be given, the object in both cases being to dilute the poison as quickly and as largely as possible. Do not wait for warm water; take that which is nearest at hand, cold or warm, for every second of time saved is of immence importance; at the same time send instantly for a physician, and as soon as he comes turn the case into his hands, telling him what you have done. This simple fact cannot be too widely published. It is not meant to say that drinking a gallon or two of simple water will cure every case of poisoning; but it will cure many, and benefits all by its rapidly diluting qualities."

Searching for the Site of King Solomon's Temple.

The Hon. Richard Vaux, Past R. W. Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, A. Y. M., in his valedictory address, stated that "during the past few years a scientific association in London has voluntarily undertaken to institute discoveries on the site of King Soloman's Temple, for the purpose of ascertaining what yet remains of the foundation and superstructure of that wonderful edifice. It is beyond doubt that enough has been done to satisfy the Freemason that the sacred and profane history of this temple is corroborated. When we hear from an eye witness, that the stones of the foundation, which have been brought to light, are each designated by a mark, cut into each stone, which has defied the learning of the philologist and archæologists, we are animated with a joy in which only the Mason can participate. Every effort should be made to continue these explorations. Freemasons have a most direct interest in the result. I, therefore, invite my brethren, the Grand Masters of the Grand Lodges of the United States, to take such action as will supply with material aid these ex- by evidence thus grasped from the destroying power of time, confirmatory of many of our esoteric teachings. Might it not be well for those Past Grand Masters who take an interest in this subject to unite in securing means to effect this most desirable object. The symbology of Masonry is a most interesting study. The truths which are hidden under these symbols may yet receive new life in a resurrection which would confirm the faith of the fraternity. I would earnestly invite for this subject the early and practical consideration of the distinguished brethren to whom I now appeal for effort to this end."

THE first use made of power in France is to coerce opinion and muzzle the press. No matter the party, the Opposition press is a danger and a terror. Orleanist, Bonapartist, Legitimist, Red, they cannot bear ventilation and free air. The Vengeur, Mot d'Ordre, and other papers are suppressed. No great loss perhaps in the fact, though serious in principle. But all new political or social economy journals are forbidden. The thing that is and the thing that is to be, are included in one condemnation. The Frenchman does not yet understand that grumbling is the safety-valve of the free machine.

SUSPENSION is working incalculable injury to industrial pursuits in this quarter. A general exodus of skilled mechanics is threatened. We can illy afford to part with so many of our best citizens, but it is not in the nature of things that they can be expected to remain here and encounter the anxieties and deprivations incident to the too frequent strikes and supensions of the coal trade.—Luzerne Union.

NATIVES of the Sandwich Islands are much pleased with the pretty postage-stamps of one, six, and eighteen cents' denomination, which have recently been introduced into the islands. These stamps are violet, green, and pink in hue, and are stamped with the heads of native Hawaiian dignitaries. There is an immense trade in them, as the natives buy them for talismans.

AT Lincoln, Nebraska, the prosecution in the impeachment trial called James Sweet, ex-State Treasurer as a witness. There seems to be a question of varacity between Butler and Sweet as to the disposition of $16,000 of school money belonging to the State.

THE Hon. E. W. Nesbit, formerly Judge of the Supreme Court of Georgia, a member of the United States Congress from 1838 to 1840, and a lawyer of distinction, died at Macon, Georgia, on the 18th; aged sixty-eight years.

MR. DAWES asked Congress for $187,000 for the Freedmen's Bureau, but it was cut to $87,000, which were appropriated. When will this leak to the public treasury be likely to stop? The election of a Democratic Congress would stop it off.

A VERY rare and beautiful medallion of Benjamin Franklin, struck in 1771, was lately presented to the Massachusetts Historical Society. It is believed to be the first ever made of clay in France.

Masonic.

INTERESTING OLD TIME REMINISCENCES.

The Athens Gleaner is publishing the early history of Masonry in that region, by which we learn that the first Lodge organized in Northern Pennsylvania was at Great Bend in 1794, and the next the same year at Wilkesbarre. The former ceased to exist long ago, but the latter is in successful operation now. In 1798 No. 70 was organized at Tioga Point, (now Athens) and is in a prosperous condition now. In 1797, between the time when No. 70 was warranted and organized, a lodge was established in Bath, in Steuben, (then Ontario) county, N. Y. Except at Canandaigua, and the one in Newtown in 1794, there were no lodges in our north in the State of New York, and in the west there were none nearer than Pittsburg, where one had been established by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania in 1783. The only other lodge bordering on ours during the last century was the present old Binghamton, which was established on this side of the Chenango river, in the then township of Union, in 1799.

Among the Masons who visited the second meeting of the lodge at Tioga Point, as visiting brethren, was Col. Thomas Baldwin, of Newtown, who was a member of the lodge there. He was an early and well known settler on the Chemung, and resided below Newtown, near where the battle of Newtown was fought by Gen. Sullivan in 1779.

He was himself in that battle as an Ensign, was wounded in it and taken back to Tioga Point, where he remained till Gen. Sullivan returned from his expedition. Baldwin Creek, near where this battle was fought, was named after him. His descendants still reside in Elmira. Zadock Elwell and Dan Elwell were also there present as visitors. Zadock and Dan Elwell were brothers. Dan came to Tioga Point in the same month that this meeting was held. He was born in Southeast, Duchess county, N. Y., April 17, 1774. He had taken the three first degrees in Masonery in La Fayette Lodge, in Amenia, in that county, in 1796. He and his brother Zadoc were both carpenters by trade, and Dan's first employment in Tioga Point was on the house of Clement Paine in 1798, which was the late residence of John Drake, and burned a few months ago. He became a member of this lodge March 21, 1801, and was voted an honorary member Dec. 5, 1825, which rank he held at the time of his death. He died at Van Ettenville aged 94 years. He had been 72 years a mason, and was buried with Masonic honors. One of his sons is the Hon. Wm. Elwell, and who resides in Bloomsburg, and is President Judge of that Judicial District of this State. One of the grandsons of Dan. Elwell was two years ago pastor of the Methodist Church, at Rome. He is a Royal Arch Mason.

PROMISSORY NOTES.—A man drew a note promising to pay one hundred dollars. He used a printed form but did not close up the blank devoted to dollars, and after it passed from his hands and became negotiable paper somebody inserted fifty after the one hundred and before the printed word dollars, making the note read one hundred and fifty dollars. The note thus altered got into the hands of an innocent party, who presented it to the drawer but payment Supreme Court decided that the maker of the note was liable for the full face of the note, because, through negligence, he had not drawn a line between the written word "hundred" and its printed word "dollars." Any testimony the drawer might offer to establish the fact that he gave a note for only one hundred dollars must go for nothing, as "there was nothing on the face of the note showing that it had been altered." Evidence of an alteration on the face of the note would have changed the case. We may furthermore add that the Chief Justice added that such a ruling was deemed necessary to facilitate the circulation of commercial paper. Let this decision be a lesson to all drawers of promissory notes.

THE Orphans' Court of Philadelphia has recently decided that it is the duty of an executor or administrator to obtain searches against real estate sold by him. In default of taking out searches the executor or administrator, it is stated, may be held personally liable to a lien creditor for the loss of his claim, even though an auditor has distributed the assets and the report has been confirmed by the Court. The executor or administrator, it was held, has constructive notice of record claims and is bound to retain sufficient funds to meet them, or to bring them to the notice of the auditor. Searches against the real estate of the decedent should either be taken out by the auditor or he should require them to be produced by the administrator.

THE subject of women's suffrage being put to a practical test in the town of Clarendon, Iowa, did not appear to create that vast enthusiasm in the breasts of the gentler sex that might have been expected. The Board of Registers, assuming to be the judges of the law in the premises, decided that all women of proper age were entitled to vote, and accordingly register their names. A number of married men concluded to strike the names of their wives from the list. The rest of the ladies did the same of their own will and behoof, and when election day came round not one lady appeared at the polling place to claim the privileges of a voter. To say the least of it, the ladies of Clarendon are to be complimented for their good sense.

A PARIS correspondent to the London Daily News of man-milliner Worth who threatens this country with his presence, and describes the females who patronized him in the days of the imperial regime in Paris. "Cocodetts of the Court," says this correspondent, 'cocodes of the Bois, wives of speculators, shoddy squaws from New York, Calmucs recently imported from their native steppes, doubtful Italian princesses, gushing Polish countesses, and foolish English women, merrily raced along the road to ruin," under the supervision of this demoralizing man-milliner.

A MRS. WILLIS, residing at Middletown, this State, recently plead guilty beforge Judge Cadwalader, of Philadelphia, to passing counterfeit money, and was sentenced to five years imprisonment in the Penitentiary. She asserted that the notes were given her by John Mengis, formerly of Muncy Dam.

CALAMITY IN THE TYROL.—It is reported the "Schlossberg," a volcanic mountain over-looking the market town of Hohenems, Tyrol, fell in, burning two principal streets of the town and burying over 900 persons; also destroying the principal church. A great excitement exists, in consequence, in Transylvania. It is more probable that the disaster is not volcanic, but caused by a landslip. Hohenems is a pretty little town in the circle of Vorarlberg in the Austrian Tyrol. It is built in a valley at the foot of the Schlossberg, a projecting crag of one of the immense peaks of the Noric Alps which gird the Tyrol. The snows this year have been deep in Europe. Of late there have been heavy rains, and the water courses have been full. These may have loosened the rock, which, falling in huge fragments, cover the valleys beneath like waves of lava. The shattered houses may have been set on fire by the burning wood in the hearths and ovens.

JOHN CHINAMAN has become something of an institution, as well as a fixed fact, in California. There are 50,000 Chinese in that State, constituting more than one-twelfth of the entire population. In the city of San Francisco alone there are 14,000, of whom over 2,000 are females. Chinese laborers usually obtain from five to eight dollars a week as wages. The assessed personal property of the Chinese population in San Francisco amounts to $1,188,060 and their real estate is valued at $74,800. It is stated to the credit of the Chinese in San Francisco that in proportion to their population fewer of their numbers are brought before the courts on criminal actions than of any other class of the people.

SWINDLES.—An exchange says sharpers are traveling the country appointing farmers to agencies of all sorts of patent traps, and when they have induced a farmer to become an agent, they make him believe that it is necessary for him to sign a paper which they call an acceptance of the agency. In many instances the papers so signed by unsuspecting farmers turn out to be promissory notes, which the sharpers bring to town and sell for what money they can, and then get out of the country, leaving the farmer to pay the note. The moral of all which is, sign nothing, unless you have seen and read it carefully for yourself and are certain that you can fully understand what it means.

THE Roman correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette makes mention of a contemplated "crusade" in Europe in support of the Pope. It says that forces for the recovery of the Papal Dominion are being mustered in Belgium, which is the heart of the movement, while volunteers are offering in every part of Europe. Funds are pouring into the Vatican to meet every expense. During the last month the Pope received 1,101,000 francs, and since the 1st of February this sum has been swelled by 400,000 francs more. This sensational story is added to by the assertion that the Pope himself will lead the crusade.

VOTING aid to railroad companies has been carried to such an extent in Wisconsin, as to alarm the more prudent business men of that State. In some places the property of the citizens ... are ruined beyond their own power of redemption. The Wisconsin Legislature accordingly makes a proposition to Congress for the appropriation of public lands to aid these men in their dilema. But the first step should be taken by Wisconsin in amending its laws, so that the railroads cannot go on absorbing all the substance of the country through which they pass.

Another Mine Explosion in South Wales.

19 PERSONS KILLED.

NEW YORK, March 26.—The late foreign papers contain an account of another terrible colliery explosion in South Wales. It took place in colliery No. 1, in Victoria Glyn, Ebwy, a few miles from Cwmrhondda, the scene of the late holocaust. Nineteen lives were lost. It was caused by fire damp. Thirteen months previous a similar accident and loss of life occurred in the same mine, which has been in constant operation for twenty-five years.

IT is said that Mr. Gladstone, the English Premier, is in straightened financial circumstances. It may be very well. It is to the credit of human nature that comparatively few great statesmen in any country abuse the facilities of their exhalted position for their own private advancement. They are, for the most part, in moderate circumstances, and spend in their public duties more than they draw from the public purse.

UNDER recent State legislation, a corporation composed of Messrs. Thomas A. Scott, J. N. McCullough and five or six others, known as the Pennsylvania Company has resumed control of the leased railroads of the Pennsylvania Central. The stock of this corporation is nominally $12,000,000, of which $8,000,000 will be paid the Pennsylvania for its interest in these leases, all of which will be turned over to the new company.

COLLECTOR R. M. WALLACE, of the Third District of South Carolina, reports that one of his assistants, named Anderson Cooper, a deputy United States Marshal, while attempting to seize illicit whiskey in the possession of a dealer named Zachariah Young was attacked by the latter. Both men drew pistols and fired simultaneously, and both were instantly killed.

A SEARCHING investigation will be made by the French National Assembly into the corrupt practices of contractors for supplies during the war. Many cases of frauds are reported in which immense contracts for articles at exorbitant prices were made, the articles, on being tested, proving utterly worthless. Shoddy is evidently not confined to this country.

THERE is serious fear that the present spring will not pass away without a political convulsion in Spain which will overthrow the Spanish Cadinet, if not the newly-created dynasty. Amadeus I. is a well-meaning man, but upon neither the grandees nor the people of Spain can he rely for support. He has no party and no hold on the nation.

RECENT letters from Hon. Hiester Clymer state that he is in Rome, and in good health. He is traveling in company with a sister who resides abroad. His return may be looked for next summer.

European War News.

LONDON, March 25.—Fecamp has been reoccupied by a force of 600 Prussians.

A despatch from the Government at Versailles, calling for volunteers to re-establish order in Paris elicited but small response in Havre.

The commune has been re established at Marseilles, where it is stated the Mayor and General Perfect have been made prisoners.

No disturbances have occurred, however, and the proclamation issued by the new Government has had a good effect. The town is quiet.

PARIS, March 25.—The official journal of the Central Committee has not appeared to-day.

The insurgent leaders have, however issued a proclamation justifying their course of action, and calling upon the people to vote at the elections.

The insurrectionary committee has entrusted military powers to Colonels Duval, Brune and Eades, who are promoted to be Generals, and will act in concert until Menotti Garibaldi, who was unanimously chosen to the chief command, arrives in Paris.

March 26.—The Journal des Debats objects to the proclamation ordering elections for to-day—that the people cannot attend the polls. No time had been given them, nor is the sincerity of the measure assured. The official organ of the insurgents prints a manifesto, signed by Banvie and Fiorens, strongly maintaining the right of municipal authority, as a defence against arbitrary political encroachment, and demanding the creation of an army, to be composed only of National Guards.

PARIS, March 26.—All is quiet, and the city is resuming its normal appearance. The barricades still remain in the streets, but the cannon which were mounted upon them are withdrawn or turned inwards. The voting commenced this morning, and is now quietly going on. There are few voters. The list of candidates endorsed by the Central Committee has been extensively distributed.

LONDON, March 27.—The Daily News has a special dispatch from Paris stating that the elections passed off quietly and resulted in an overwhelming communist majority. The revolutionary authority is completely dominant. The andication of Admiral Soisset and the Mayors increases the success of the revolution, which within a week will spread to all the large towns, and render the position of Government in the rural districts untenable.

The Daily News' special despatch from Brussels says Bazaine is about to leave for France, and Lebœuf will go to the Hague.

The Revolt in Algeria is spreading.

The Telegraph's special correspondent at Versailles reports that the Government ordered the prompt arrest of General Garibaldi upon his appearance on French soil.

It is generally thought the Government is defunct, and a rumor is current that Thiers will be forced to resign, and will be succeeded by the Duc d'Aumale.

LONDON, March 27.—Thiers is credited with the remark to his friends that when the Government has a hundred thousand troops in which it can trust, an attack will be made upon Paris.

PARIS, March 27.—It is believed the capital will be removed to Tours.

PARIS, March 27.—The Official Journal of the Central Committee, in an editorial, says the first task of the newly elected muncipality will be the compilation of the character that will secure the rights of the people, and prevent the representation of large towns from being swamped by the country. An article in the same journal demands that all matters essentially Parisian must be within the domain of the commune.

VERSAILLES, March 27.—M. Thiers made an eloquent though brief address in the National Assembly to-day, in which he defended the wisdom of his policy, and took a solemn oath that he would not betray the Republic.

LONDON, March 27.—The Times' special despatch says: Paris has nearly recumed its usual appearance.

PARIS, March 28.—Le Soir reports that 180,000 votes were cast on Sunday, about half the number polled at the last plebiscitum.

The Official Journal contains an article signed by Vaillant, advocating the assassination of the Duke d' Aumale.

RUSSIA, March 28.—The Plenipotentiaries of France and Germany met at 2 P. M. The opening proceedings were wholly formal. Credentials were exchanged, and preparations made for future meetings.

Fire in the Woods.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Twenty square miles of wooded land on the south shore of Long Island were burned over yesterday, and thousands of cords of wood and other property were destroyed, the total loss being not less than $100,000. The fire began near Merrick, and burned westward to Oakland, passing close to several small villages, which were saved only by great exertions of the inhabitants. No lives were lost or dwellings burned during the entire progress of the fire.

THE Brooklyn Eagle recently published a long article on "gambling and gamblers," from which we take the following:

"Young people will gamble. The church has its lotteries and its grab-bags at fairs; the press teems with the brilliant schemes of fortune-making by drawing numbers from the wheel; the poorest the lowest, white and colored, together will risk their last cent for the prospect of a "hit"—in policy, with one chance against four in their favor; Wall street will gamble in stocks; even the Sunday Loafers, who swarm the docks, in warm weather, will have their game of draw, while the younger crowds indulge in pitching pennies, keeping an eye keenly peeled to sight a "peeler." Young women gamble with their beauty peace of mind, health, reputation, and happiness as the fearful stakes, losing fortune, hope, life, everything, by one rash hazard of the die. They gamble with their health by late hours, consumption thin soled slippers and spider-tapered waists."

IT IS announced that Fred. Douglass will be the Republican candidate for Congress from the District of Columbia, and it is even hinted that the District was given a Congressman for the express purpose of making a place for the representation of the negro race.

Conyngham and Centralia, Wednesday, May 10th, at the house of William Peiffer, in Centralia.

The hours of meeting will be between 8 o'clock A. M., and 4 o'clock P. M. each day, when and where parties can attend if they think proper.

We also take occasion here to state that we will give to each board of Auditors, by the time of holding township settlements, being April [illegible] next, all blanks necessary in relation to their duties as appraisers of sheep damage; being blank-oath copy of laws, and certificates upon which to report damage; and that we will issue no orders upon any certificates after that date unless the auditors have first filed their oath in this office.

The law and instructions are plain. The law making parties liable, not only for the sheep killed by dog or dogs, but also for any other damage done to a flock of sheep," is not repealed.

Great injustice may be, and no doubt, has been done, from the idea, that a man must not kill the dog, or that such dog dare not be killed by any one else, no matter how many sheep he may kill or has killed.

Dogs found within an enclosure killing sheep, should then and there be killed.

The dog fund, which is somewhat in arrear, now, can soon be put at par, if the law is faithfully carried out.

Assessors are especially directed to go to every taxable in his district.

By that means they will be able to make a proper return.

Each person will be served with notice of his valuation. And if he is rated with anything he has not, it is his duty to attend the appeal. It will not do to claim at the hands of a collector that a party had no dog, or that he has gone at the time the collector called on him for his tax.

The above blanks have, in most cases, been sent to the Assessors, with assess-books, and will be delivered as above stated.

FAMILY BIBLE.

WITH OVER

1,000 ILLUSTRATIONS,

50,000 REFERENCES,

A FAMILY RECORD,

and

FAMILY ALBUM.

THE PICTORIAL FAMILY BIBLE contains a storehouse of information that can only reach the mind through the eye. Its illustrations carry one back to the most important era of the world, and are of themselves a comprehensive review of the Scriptures, representing the most interesting Views, Characters, Symbols, Historical Events, Landscape Scenes, Antiquities, Costumes, Beasts, Birds, Insects, Plants, Minerals, Coins, Medals, Inscriptions and Incidents referred to throughout the Sacred Text. They attract the eye, correct erroneous impressions, awaken new thoughts and furnish clearer views of Divine Truth. As a help to Parents, Ministers, and Sabbath-school Teachers in fulfilling the duties of their separate and high vocations—and to all others to whom immortal souls are intrusted—this splendid Pictorial Volume cannot be overestimated. It is the Edition

Most Suitable for the Family,
Most Valuable for the Students,
Most Instructive for the Teacher,
Most Appropriate for the Child,
Most Useful for the Minister,
Most Interesting for the Farmer,
Most Elegant for the Parlor,
Most Profitable for the Study.

THE PICTORIAL FAMILY BIBLE, in addition to the features already alluded to, contains the Apocrypha, Concordance, Psalms in Metre, a Summary of the Sacred Truth as taught by the Inspired Book, together with numerous and comprehensive Tables and other Historical and Explanatory Matter, embodying the labors of many of the most eminent Biblical scholars. It is printed on the finest calendered paper, from clear and open type, in one large and handsome quarto volume, and is bound in the most durable and attractive manner, while the prices are sufficiently low to place it within everybody's reach.

EXPERIENCED AGENTS are wanted throughout the country for its sale, with whom liberal arrangements will be made. An opportunity of equal promise is rarely or never presented. Its sales will not be limited to any period, but will continue for a lifetime, constantly increasing with the growth and intelligence of the country. It is therefore desirable that those who engage with us, shall do so with a view to making the business a permanent one.

MINISTERS, TEACHERS, STUDENTS, FARMERS, YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN—those who would meet with the most profitable of all employments—are invited to correspond with us with a view to an agency. Not a few such are now averaging from $500 to $800 annual profit in its sales. There is a great want for the book and a rich field offered, while it will elevate the spiritual condition by constant contact with and conversations upon its beautiful and eternal truths.

AGENTS ON THE INSTALMENT PLAN will be furnished the work in fine bindings. This plan is quite popular and profitable in cities and large towns. We have an edition of the book, superbly bound, with massive panelled sides, which has been everywhere received with marked favor. Subscriptions for the Pictorial Bible, in this style and in this way, can be obtained to an almost unlimited extent, as there is no outlay of money that the Bible reader can make, which will yield him so rich a return.

We are also the Publishers of POTTER'S STANDARD EDITIONS of Family, Pulpit, Pocket and Photograph Bibles and Testaments—nearly 300 different styles—so well known everywhere for their accuracy of text, beauty of finish and durability of binding. Always ask for Potter's Standard Editions, and get the best. Catalogues containing styles and prices furnished on application.

THE Court advertisements for May term appear in this week's COLUMBIAN.

THE next State Fair is to be held in Scranton, September 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d, 1871.

A FARM containing 250 acres belongs to the new Insane Asylum now building at Danville.

REV. JOHN SUTTON of Fishingcreek township, has been appointed Mercantile Appraiser for this county, for 1871.

LLOYD BRITTON was hanged at Williamsport, on Wednesday the 22d inst., for the murder of Jacob Bay, in November last. He died asserting that he was innocent.

TROUT FISHING will commence on the 1st of next month. Legislative enactment prohibits the catching of the speckled beauties, except in the months of April, May, June, and July.

REV. J. R. DIMM, has resigned the charge of the Barren Hill Lutheran Church, in Montgomery county, to accept the appointment of Corresponding Secretary of the Lutheran Board of Publication, in Philadelphia.

OUR patrions in the county will always save money by consulting our advertising columns before coming to town to purchase goods of any kind. Those who solicit your custom by liberal advertising will invariably give you bargains in selling you goods.

FROM every section of country we have the most favorable reports in relation to the appearance of the wheat crop, and it is said the indications of an abundant yield were never more promising. The wheat now looks as green and healthy as it generally does in the middle of April.

MUNCY CREEK R. R.—In the Senate on Tuesday last, Mr. BUCKALEW called up the Governor's veto of the Muncy Creek Railroad bill, which after a long debate, was not sustained, and the bill accordingly passed the Senate over the veto of the Governor by a vote of 18 ayes to 9 nays.

WE learn from reliable authority, says the Scranton Democrat, that the Companies will give the miners until the first of June to make up their minds what they will do. If they, by that time, still hold out and refuse to resume labor, the mines will then be worked by others who will be ready to enter the shafts, and who will enter under full protection.

SHOT HIMSELF.—A young man about eighteen years of age, named STECKROTH, of Montour township, this county, accidently shot himself through the abdomen on Sunday last, from the effects of which he expired almost instantly. It appears he was crossing a fence at the time, and in pulling his gun through the lock caught, discharging the gun, and lodging its contents into his body.

HENRY J. CLARK has erected in the large show window of his store room what is known as a "revolving pyramid." It is handsomely constructed, and can be seen constantly in motion, heavily ladened with fancy and other goods. We will not pretend to give the principle upon which it is operated, but leave that to be explained by its ingenious constructor, LOUIS BERNHARD.

THE Williamsport Standard of last week says, in Nippenose, Lycoming county, the scarlet fever has brought twenty-four persons, mostly innocents, to the tomb since the 14th of January. On last Thursday Mr. John Voneida, a good citizen, was coffinded, leaving in this world a wife and twelve children, and on Friday Mr. Warren Clark was buried. This valley has had the reputation of being a very healthy locality, but of late disease and death have been reaping their sheaves, large and small, with fearful rapidity.

TERRIBLE R. R. ACCIDENT.—On last Tuesday morning the body of SANFORD MILLER, brakeman on the Express Freight, was found lying on the railroad at Watsontown. The right leg was cut off near the body, the flesh torn from the leg, and the foot crushed and mangled. The left foot was crushed and mutilated, and the left hand the same. The top and back part of the head were knocked off, and lying at some distance from the body. The neck was broken and the breast-bone crushed. The unfortunate man was from Tyrone, to which place his body was forwarded on Wednesday morning.—Sunbury Gazette.

YORK COUNTY STEEL ORE.—The True Democrat says the Bessemer process of making steel is said to have added $1,000,000,000 to the wealth of Great Britain. The York process, with the use of Codorus steel ore, now supersedes the Bessemer process. Recent experiments at Troy, New York, and other places, have proven that Bessemer steel can be made $20 a ton cheaper by the additional use of Codorus ore. Old, rejected and worthless Bessemer scraps can be reworked and made into very superior steel. The sale of Codorus ore is becoming extensive. 10,000 tons have been sold in one week.

PROTECTION TO LIVERY STABLE KEEPERS.—A bill has passed the Legislature for the protection of livery stable keepers throughout the State. This class of people has long been subjected to losses by parties who have acted as if they had undoubted right to abuse hired teams just as they please. The bill passed declares that persons hiring horses or vehicles from livery stable keepers, who shall negligently injure or destroy property committed to their care, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or an imprisonment of twenty-five days in the county prison, or both, at the discretion of the court, and parties to be responsible and answerable for the value of the property injured or destroyed in a suit for debt.

A FIRE at Petroleum Centre, on Thursday, swept the buildings from five acres of ground. The number of buildings destroyed was eighty-five dwellings and stores, besides barns, &c. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

A BIG ONE.—The Raftman's Journal says that a pine tree was felled in Clearfield, on the lands of John DuBois, Esq., of Williamsport, from which were cut seventeen logs, sixteen feet long, and containing 7,200 feet of good lumber!

THE Lehigh Canal, between Easton and Mauch Chunk, which has been thoroughly cleaned and repaired during the past winter, was opened for navigation on Monday last. The Delaware Division which has also been thoroughly overhauled, will not be ready for boating before next Monday.

SUSPENSION.—A Plymouth correspondent to the Wilkes-Barre Record of the Times says resumption of work is gradually taking place here. Lance's colliery has been working for more than a month. The Union and Nottingham and the Washington have commenced more recently. The slope, we are informed, commenced Tuesday morning.

MOVING DAY.—To-morrow will be a big day among the pots and pans. What a time there will be, moving out and moving in! What a rattling and pushing and—swearing! What a host of good dinners will be prepared and eaten! How many sad hearts there will be where old family circles have been broken and old homesteads are being left forever—and how many new homes will be crowded full of joyous anticipations for the future! Such is life.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—A most distressing case of family affliction by death occurred recently in the family of Daniel and Caroline Hoffman, of South Manheim township. Between the 13th and 22d of March five children, ranging in age from five weeks to twelve years, died of scarlet fever, and on the latter date the sixth child was in a dying condition. On the 16th three of the children were buried in one grave. It is useless to express sympathy in a case of such appalling misfortune.—Pottsville Standard.

ACCIDENT.—We are informed that Andrew Creasy, son of Jacob Creasy, formerly of Luzerne county, but now of Bermuda Hundred, Va., was instantly killed by the explosion of a steam boiler. It appears that young Creasy went out with his father's team to a saw mill on the farm to bring home a load of lumber, and while in the act of loading his wagon the boiler of the mill exploded, taking off one-half of his skull, carrying away a portion of the brains and scalding him very much. The body was thrown some twenty-five feet from where he was at work, killing him instantly. Deceased was aged 17 years, 1 month and 6 days.

LOOK TO YOUR CELLARS.—How few housekeepers there are who appreciate the blessings of pure sun light. most of them keep their windows closed, or partially so, during the entire year, fearing lest the rays should fade the blinds or carpet, or in summer time invite a fly or two to take possession. This is a grievous mistake, and one that has a pernicious effect upon health. Another great error is the neglect to keep cellars clean and thoroughly ventilated. "The emanations from damp and foul cellars," says a medical journal, "frequently counteract the benign influence of pure air and sunlight in our houses. Inattention to the purification of this portion of our dwellings has proved a source of disease, and in many instances causing death." Look to your cellars. Admit to them all the air and sunshine possible. See that every nook and corner is cleared of garbage, and the walls thickly whitewashed.

ARREST OF THE SUPPOSED MURDERER OF BENJAMIN YOHE.—It will be remembered that on Friday the 26th of last May, a young man, son of John R. Yohe, of Mifflinville, Columbia county, was murdered near Lost Creek bridge, while on his way from Shenandoah, this county, where he had been to sell a load of hay and collect some money. When out of Shenandoah about a mile two men jumped into the wagon. When near the bridge and about to descend a declivity the young man got out to lock the wagon, and while doing so was shot in the neck by one of the men, inflicting a mortal wound. They then rifled the pockets of their victim. The young man was still alive when found and was able to partially describe the villains, it is said.

On the 27th of June, a man named Keane, and another known to be Michael Hartzel, of Nescopec, in Luzerne county, who had been prowling around that portion of Schuylkill and Columbia counties with another fellow named Charles Fredericks, were arrested at Bloomsburg and brought to the Pottsville jail. They were taken to Ringtown about the first week in July, and a preliminary examination before a justice was commenced but before its conclusion Keane escaped. The evidence of murder proved not to be sufficient against them, however, and Hartzel was discharged. It was known then the three fellows were dealers in counterfeit money. Hartzel and Fredericks had been seen in Shenandoah the day Yohe was murdered.

On July 14th, constable Foose of Ringtown succeeded in arresting Fredericks at Nescopeck, and safely lodged him in jail, in Pottsville, on charge of passing counterfeit money. On this charge he was convicted in February last before the U. S. District Court at Pittsburg and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.

Soon after the arrest of Fredericks Hartzel was rearrested, but on charge of counterfeiting, and taken to Pittsburg for trial. Last week the detectives who have been making arrests of counterfeiters at Harrisburg, came upon evidence that seemed to fix the commission of the murder of Yohe with certainty upon Fredericks and Hartzel, and accordingly H. Bucher Swope, United States District Attorney was notified by telegraph, on Monday last, to refuse bail for Hartzel. The father of the murdered boy was also notified and he went to Harrisburg on Tuesday to learn the facts. It is understood that he found the evidence in possession of Whiteley's detectives sufficient to warrant him in instituting proceedings against the two counterfeiters, and it is probable that the accused will shortly be returned to this county for trial.—Pottsville Standard.

Resolutions of Condolence.

WHEREAS, Our unerring Father has called home Brother T. W. Hutchins.

BE IT Resolved, That by the breaking of this silver cord we are made sad, and our heart's tenderest affections rent asunder.

Resolved, That we highly appreciate his character as a professional man, a beloved member of our Order, and a Christian gentleman.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and extend to them the hand of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be handed to the relatives, and also published in the local papers.

A BIG PLUM FOR LAWYERS.—Some fifty years ago somebody owned 3,000 or 4,000 acres of land hereabouts, which land was then considered of little or no value. The party dying left four heirs; part of these heirs were defrauded of their inheritance, and before the real value of the land became known, the defrauded party left and finally died abroad. The descendants now come forward and claim their interest in the estate, which, when taken from their ancestors was a worthless tract of mountain fastnesses and is now developed into one of the richest tracts of land on the globe, and their interest is supposed to be worth at least $2,000,000. We have understood that on this disputed tract is located our Borough.—Hazleton News.

MR. AARON WOLF, who visited this town a few weeks ago, and bought nearly fifty fine horses, is here again, buying a second lot, even better than the first. We wonder why farmers will thus dispose of their best horses! But this is just what they are doing, for the horses Mr. Wolf now has in his stables are the very best in this county. These horses are destined to Columbia and Lehigh counties, Pa. Mr. Wolf has a good eye, and is a good judge of horse flesh. He is, it is said, paying fair prices for all the horses he buys—but buys only the best. We regret thus to see our best stock taken away.—Rochester Ind. Sentinel.

Mr. WOLF will be in Bloomsburg next Tuesday, April 4th, with a drove of 31 horses, which he will offer for sale.

MORE than a hundred companies have made Sewing Machines during the last twenty years, all represented theirs superior to all others. But when tried in practical use a few months, their faults were discovered, many of the Companies suspended, and owners of machines found most of them worthless, which caused many families to form an unfavorable opinion of sewing with machinery. Those who bought the Singer twenty years ago, or since, found it to be as represented; to do the work in the best manner year after year without trouble or cost for repairs. The Singer is the largest Company in existence. They employ the highest inventive talent, and twelve hundred experienced mechanics, using the best steel with perfect machinery for fitting all parts exact, which makes every machine recommend itself. While making other styles of machines, they believing it possible that a new machine could be made simple, durable, quiet, easy to learn and adapted to a great range of work without unusual strain or wear. Time, talent and capital were used in combining valuable patents, late improvements and experiments in the plan of constructing their new Family Sewing Machine which was put in market about six years ago, and is now brought to the highest perfection. Since the introduction of this machine on its own merits, the demand for it has far exceeded the Company's expectations. It has distanced all competition. Their sales last year were forty-four thousand more than any other Company, and it is believed with the same effect to make sales by their agents that is done by those representing other Companies. The sales of the Singer will equal all other Companies in the United States. If our friends want a reliable machine, one that is reliable for all kinds of family sewing, without unusual wear or strain, we advise them to buy the New Family Singer.

Cheering Facts for the Billious.

Every day demonstrates more clearly that no complaint, in all its distressing forms, can be controlled and cured without difficulty or inconvenience. It is an obstinate disease, but its empire is not proof against the persuasions of the genial and restorative operation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That genial corrective compels the organs to do its duty. It must secrete regularly and healthfully under the influence of the Bitters. Their action brings it back from a state of rebellion into perfect harmony with the laws of health. If there is costiveness, it disappears; if there is sick-ache or back-ache, it ceases; if the skin and the whites of the eyes are tinged with superfluous bile, they recover their natural hue; if the appetite is gone, it returns; if the digestion is impaired, it is restored; in brief, whatever the symptoms of the complaint may be, and whatever the phase it has assumed, a cure is certain. Such are the uniform effects of this preparation where billious disease has been already developed; but in cases where there is merely a constitutional tendency to liver complaint, it may be prevented throughout life by the regular use, in small quantities, of this palatable antidote. These are proven facts, and should be seriously pondered—or, rather, they should be promptly acted upon—by all persons of billious habit.

EXTRACT CATAWBA

GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS, JAUNDICE, BILIOUS AFFECTIONS, SICK OR NERVOUS HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS, Etc. PURELY VEGETABLE, CONTAINING NO MERCURY MINERALS OR DELETERIOUS DRUGS.

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superceding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. PRICE FIFTY CENTS PER BOX.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Humorous.

The Slang of Our Day.

The slang of our day is a puzzle,
Invented by—ah, who can tell?
A drink is a "smile, or a guzzle,"
A swindle is merely a "sell."
One tells you a tale you can't "swaller,"
He tells you "by thunder" 'tis true;
You bet him your last "bottom dollar,"
"By thunder" that's all you can do.

They ask you "how goes it?" on meeting,
"Take care of yourself," is adieu;
They substitute "beating" for cheating,
And sometimes combine both the two.
If foolish, "your head isn't level,"
Or, may be, "your head isn't clear;"
Instead of saying, "go to the devil,"
They tell you "walk off on your ear."

To praise you they say "your a bully;"
For honest they nickname you "square,"
Although pleased to understand fully,
There's not many that way, "I swear."
While robbing they call 'going through you,'
And "go for him," means an attack.
When financial troubles come to you,
They say, "Oh, he's up on his back."

"Fusil oil" is the new name for whisky,
"Spondulix" cognomen for pelf,
"You've been there," when charged as too frisky;
Well, "You know how it is yourself."
And if a reproof you should offer,
They tell you "that game is quite played,"
Say, walk off you "big, dirty loafer,"
Or a large "Mansard roof" will be made.

Then sometimes you're "cornered" or "euchered,"
That is, if you get in a "fix;"
They call you "galoot" it untutored
In every galoot's knavish tricks.
There are "That's what's the matter with Hannah,"
And "dead beats" on every side,
If the "skunks" will not alter their manners,
I don't care a "cuss," "let 'em slide."

The heathen Chinee is making whiskey in California by fermenting old rice and rubber shoes and things, and the revenue people are after John. The whiskey made this way is much sought after by suicides.

"I have this afternoon been preaching to a congregation of asses," said a conceited young parson. "Then that was the reason you called them beloved brethren," replied a strong-minded lady.

"Mammy," said a little fellow, just big enough to gobble doughnuts, but didn't like to rock the cradle of his baby brother, of whom he professed to be very fond—very! "Mammy! if the Lord's got any more babies to give away, don't you take em!"

Lord Dundreary has just given his opinion with regard to that much vexed question—marriage with a deceased wife's sister. I—I think, he says, marriage with a deceased wife's thithter is very proper and very economical, because when a fellah marrieth his detheathed wife's thithter, he—he hath only one mother-in law.

HUMORS OF THE SCAFFOLD.—An Irishman had been convicted of a robbery at the Old Bailey sessions, for which he was brought up, with others, to receive the judgement of death. The prisoner, on being called on by the officer of the court in the usual way to declare what he had to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him, advanced to the front of the dock, with a vacant stare, and inquired:

"What was the question?"

"You have been convicted of robbery. What have you to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon you according to law?

"Faith," answered the prisoner, "I have nothing much to say, except that I do not think I am safe in your hands."

The court laughed; sentence was passed, and the prisoner was about to retire, when the officer of the court called him back and demanded to know his age.

"Is it my age ye mane?"

"What is your age?"

"I believe I am pretty well as ould as ever 'll be."

Again the whole court was convulsed with laughter; but the wretched man, whose mirth-loving powers were quite involuntary, was doomed even at the scaffold to "set the people in a roar." In the press-room his irons were removed, and his arms confined with cords. This being done, he seated himself, and in spite of the calls of Jack Ketch and of the sheriffs to accompany them in the procession, clung to the bench where he had taken up his position.

"Come," at last urged the hangman, "the time has arrived."

But the Irishman would not move.

"The officers are waiting for you," said the sheriff. "Can anything be done for you, before you quit this world?"

No answer was returned. Jack Ketch grew surly.

"If you won't go, I must carry you," he said.

"Then you may," said the prisoner, "for I'll not walk."

"Why not?" inquired a sheriff.

"I will not be instrumental to my own death," answered the prisoner.

"What do you mean?" aked the ordinary.

"What do I mane? retorted the hapless man; "I mane that I'll not walk to my own destruction."

And in this determination he persisted, and was carried to the scaffold, where he was turned off, refusing to do anything which might be construted into "his being a party to his own death."

DR. SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER.

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more Northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well.

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville. It is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat or cough, but for those whose lungs are diseased a more southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1869, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence, my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold.

In Florida, nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills, for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one-third, at least, of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely, still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh cold as they are about scarlet fever, small pox, &c. But they are not. They take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly is, to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough or night-sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is to give my three medicines, in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of that relish comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the cough loosens and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night-sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold.

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point, by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhea ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night or every other night, and you may then drink water and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No 15 N. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understand that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say that when persons take my medicines and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold, yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.

"AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN A POUND OF CURE."

This is the most sickly period of the year, but there is a remedy which is a constant protection against the causes of diseases; it enters swiftly into the circulation of the blood, expels the morbific substance collected therein during the winter; corrects all morbid changes in the blood; promotes the operations of the digestive organs; acts as a mild and efficacious stomachic; strengthens the nervous system; promotes buoyancy of spirits and feeling; revives the physical energies, and imparts vitality and elasticity to every organ of the human body. It is no less celebrated a preparation than MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS. Use it now—use it regularly every day—and prepare your system for the change in the season, and fortify it against the dangers of disease.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

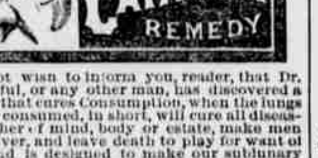

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

I do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures Consumption, when the lungs are half consumed, in short, will cure all diseases whether of mind, body or estate, make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show. You have heard enough of that kind of humbuggery. But when I tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh in the Head, I only assert that which thousands can testify to I will pay $500 Reward for a case that I cannot cure. SEVEN REASONS WHY
GESS (Great English Weeny Pecific)
IS THE BEST LINIMENT IN THE WORLD FOR HORSES.

FIRST.—It is composed of the most POWERFUL and PENETRATING liquids known in Chemistry.
SECOND.—Combined with the above is a MEDICINAL OIL, made expressly for this Liniment, and mixed by an entirely new process.
THIRD.—The use of the powerful and penetrating ingredients is to drive or force in this beautiful MEDICINAL OIL, which lubricates the joints and muscles, and immediately throttles the disease, and compels it to loosen its deathly, sickening and poisonous fangs.
FOURTH.—This MEDICINAL OIL is used for the same reason that a good mechanic always uses oil—to make his machinery work with ease and precision. So in the same way the muscles and joints of our animals should be lubricated if we wish to have them travel with rapidity and ease.
FIFTH.—It is very soothing in its action, will not burn or blister the animal like most of the "red hot" liniments of the day.
SIXTH.—Not one drop of tincture of cayenne or red pepper can be found in its composition; for we hold that no liniment can be effective which burns and blisters the animal until the muscles are hard and dried almost to a crisp.
SEVENTH.—Every bottle is WARRANTED to give good satisfaction, or your money will be refunded. This shows conclusively that the proprietors have full confidence in this preparation, and proves for the seventh time that G. E. S. S. is the best Liniment in the world for horses.
Don't allow your Merchant to palm off Tincture of Red Pepper and Hartshorn, or other trash on you, but ask for G. E. S. S. for Horses, and take no other. Sold by all druggists.

AGENTS Wanted for SATAN IN SOCIETY

A NEW BOOK of the greatest interest and importance. Written from a high moral and physiological standpoint, by an eminent physician and medical professor, it shows how Satan is working out his subtle and dangerous designs through our most sacred domestic and social relations. Pure-minded, but outspoken and aggressive, the author handles the delicate subjects treated of without gloves, but in such a manner as not to minister to a prurient curiosity. The Physical Regeneration of the Race, is a subject justly enlisting the interest and sympathy of all true philanthropists, and this book, it is believed, will contribute to that end just in proportion as it has readers. A circular sent free, containing a full description and synopsis of the work with liberal extracts. C. F. VENT, Publisher, sept2'70—1y 5 College Place, N. Y.

AGENTS SHOULD ADDRESS C. F. VENT
3 Barclay St., N.Y. or 38 W. 4th St., Cincinnati, O. If they want the most popular and best selling subscription books published, and the most liberal terms. Send for Circulars. They will cost you nothing, and may be of great benefit to you.

Washing Machnes.

DOTY'S WASHING-MACHINE,
LATELY MUCH IMPROVED—AND THE NEW UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER

Improved with Rowell's Patent Double Cogwheels, and the Patent Stop, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

The Editor of this paper, who purchased a Washer and Wringer, thus testifies as to their value:

"We have had in use in our family for some time past, one of Doty's Clothes Washers and Wringers, and are prepared to bear testimony as to its merits. It is emphatically a labor-saving machine and does its work in the most thorough manner. For families who have large washes these machines would be invaluable."—COLUMBIAN, Jan. 14, 1870.

PRICES—A FAIR OFFER.
If the Merchants in your place will not furnish, or send for the Machines, send us the retail price, Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.
